MESSAGES

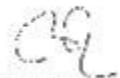

From the desk of Vice – Chancellor

I take this opportunity to present with immense pleasure the Placement Brochure for the M.A. Social Work at the Gautam Buddha University, for the year 2014.

The social sector has been growing exponentially and reflects a growing need of professionals in social work sector. In tandem the social sector is the recognition of the fact that passion is the source and professionalism gives the medium to deliver this passion into services. It is with great confidence that I present this batch of students who are an appropriate amalgamation of passion and professionalism.

The pedagogy at the Department of Social Work, Gautam Buddha University is an exclusive blend of different methodologies and techniques to imbibe theoretical knowledge and practice skills. A great emphasis is laid on building up the skill sets of students in contemporary techniques of development work which are at par with national and international standards of teaching and practice. With great emphasis on rigorous training and education of our aspirants we tandem an egalitarian, secular and just future.

I take this opportunity to once again welcome your organization to the campus of Gautam Buddha University for the recruitment of the graduating students of Masters of Social Work.

Dr. J.P. Sharma, I.A.S. (Retd.)

Vice- Chancellor

Message from DEAN, Student Affairs,

I am glad to introduce the outgoing batch of M.A. (Social Work). The selection of the students is done through rigorous process. Two years of individualized field work and supervision has equipped them with sound theoretical knowledge and skill based competence. They have been guided to develop the theoretical underpinnings, the right attitude, values and skills necessary for the upcoming challenges in the field of social work with specializations as well.

It is with great confidence and conviction that I present this batch of students to you for exploring the possibility of employment in your esteemed organization. Hence, I welcome you to our campus to meet with these young professional social workers, who I am sure would be an asset to any organization they might serve.

DR. ANAND SINGH
DEAN, STUDENT AFFAIRS

Message from the Dean:

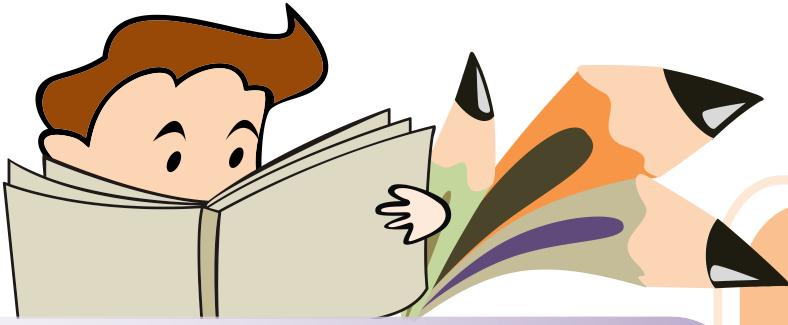

As Dean of the School of Humanities and Social Sciences (SOHSS), it is a pleasure, and my privilege, to welcome you to the Department of Social Work at Gautam Buddha University. The School offers Master of Social Work (MSW) and Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) degrees in Social Work, with a view to enacting GBU's overarching elements of distinctiveness. The Department of Social Work was established in the year 2011, keeping in mind the need to prepare students for professional social work service and leadership, and to make them work effectively within teams, including social work teams, multi- and inter-disciplinary teams. Emphasis is placed on achieving a comprehensive, developmental, and community oriented understanding of problems, issues, alternatives, and needs of the society faced with rapidly changing social, political, economic, and cultural conditions. The students from Social Work Program are engaged into field work at different NGOs and other organizations, learning how societal needs can be addressed collaboratively and from multiple perspectives. The faculty collaborates with communities, conducts research, and disseminates knowledge in response to the needs of individuals and families living in diverse and multicultural environments.

We lead the scholarly search for innovative and effective solutions to human concerns and look forward to build and strengthen relationships with individuals and organizations in moving towards advancing the objectives of social work profession.

DR. SUBHASIS BHADRA

“Looking back in memory and a little bit of pride at the last twelve months of evolution of the Department of Social Work, from its small beginning to its continuous and its power to last, I see a tree growing its branches based on the basic tenet of the principles of social work practice. As social scientists, I see the future is exceptionally bright and we tend to make a mark in spite of the challenges posed in our path towards attaining our goal. We have developed a system of teaching practices in a more structured and organized manner; we organized events, networked with external organizations, made data bases of colleges, universities and civil society organizations, we engaged students in various outreach programs and so on”

We have a set of students from different backgrounds eager to take up professional challenge and achieve excellence in their respective areas of expertise. I wish them all the best for their future and present the placement brochure of Masters in Social Work 2014 batch.

MS. SIBGHAT USMANI

"The profession of social work is hugely based on the principle of ITP which is 'Integration of Theory into Practice'. Without a strong fieldwork orientation, the two years of Masters programme in Social Work would be redundant. I have been associated with the fieldwork coordination since the beginning therefore my attachment to it is both personal and professional. We, as a department focus on building systems, procedures and documents which would become the foundation for the coursework as well as develop a systematic structure of field exposure. The purpose of fieldwork is also to enable students with an interface between classroom lecture and the daily happenings. They develop skills to deal with people, to deal with problems in their own lives, determine which approaches work in practice, develop a professional identity, learn to use supervision and develop analytical wisdom to life. In our programme, we place students in various set ups like development agencies, non-government/government/government-aided organisations, corporate houses and urban slums (which in our parlance is called open communities).

Each student spends 17 hours in a week in an organization/community to learn the nuance of the social work methodology which also includes report writing and interaction with field supervisor (every student is assigned one supervisor who provides them one-on-one attention on their social action and reporting skills). The rigorous theoretical and practical exercise of the students qualifies them for the professional contribution. They all will be great assets for their respective areas of work."

"Events are a major marketing tool for the university, where one can reach the wider stakeholders about the mission of the university and also bring several external views which can be assimilated with the vision of the university. Successful organizing of an event is based on the recognition that people get organised because they, too, have a vision. With the freedom to express our views and opportunity to share our creative space to work as independent, allows us to understand each other's strengths and weakness and therefore makes us work like a group. Apart from the teaching responsibilities, students and teachers have been instrumental in organizing various events. The scope of these events varied from dealing with issues on child sexual abuse, environment, networking, research skills and personality development. The events not only enabled students and faculty to be introduced to varied academic culture, it also provided a platform to students to organize their own event which was empowering and liberating."

MR. SIDDARAMU B.

Social work departmental seminar activity is one of the student's friendly and pleasurable activities. Students are provided an opportunity to expose and experience in multidimensional ways by selecting and discussing various topics. Through departmental seminar activity adequate opportunity is created to recognise one's ability and to utilise it optimally. Students can select their own topics for their seminar based on their own interests. While selecting seminar topics and article for review both text and context has been taken into consideration to make sure that will enrich and enhance student's potentiality. Department faculties are available, accessible and approachable to the students to guide their seminar topics and article reviews to make them comprehensive. There is enough space for the creativity of the students that make them intelligent than intellectual. Thus based on the efficient ideology and teaching pedagogy I welcome the organization for placements and present the batch of MSW 2014.

THE UNIVERSITY

GBU is a government aided state university, established by the Uttar Pradesh Act (9) of 2002. It commenced its first academic session at its 511 acres campus at Greater Noida in August 2008. The University is fully funded by the New Okhla Industrial Development Authority (NOIDA) and the Greater Noida Industrial Development Authority (GNIDA), the undertakings of the Government of Uttar Pradesh. The University envisions to become a world class centre for excellence in education with a special focus to serve the under privileged and economically challenged sections of the society. The campus is modeled as a fully residential educational campus in line with the best institutions of higher learning across the globe. The uniqueness of its reputation is acknowledged through the format, content and pedagogy of its programmes and their relevance to the society.

The University is recognized by the University Grants Commission under UGC Act and is a member of the Association of Indian Universities.

THE DEPARTMENT

Department of Social Work was formed in the year 2011 and is an integral part of the School of Humanities and Social Sciences. The Department has an eclectic mix of enviable and experienced faculty members. The course is designed to cater to the general trend of the profession as against any specialised course which debars growth and understanding in other sector. The Department aims to provide both academic and professional exposure to students in the field of social work which encompasses social work in administration, welfare, policy development, community organisation, building human resources, research and documentation among others. The Department strives to enhance the intellectual faculties of young professionals through both scholastic and field endeavours by engaging them in classroom discussions, field visits and on-field training with institutions and open communities, expose them to discourses in national and international events and so on.

Equipped with one of the best facilities, the department attempts to maximally utilize them for the student's benefit. The faculty at the department has earned their repute not only within the university but equally at the national and international level.

VISION

"To nurture and develop dynamic and competent social work professionals to address the challenges and concerns of the 21st century that facilitates changes at the level of policy formation and academic advancement. It is an endeavour to inculcate research aptitude, analytical ability, innovative programming and thrusting on development models for social work practice in different spheres of human existence".

The pedagogy at the Department is a unique blend of different methodologies to imbibe theoretical knowledge and practice skills. A great emphasis is laid on building up the skill sets of students in contemporary techniques of developmental work.

DEPARTMENT PEDAGOGY

We do it passionately, differently

The department aims at inculcating the essential knowledge and skills for social work. Above all, care is taken to create the environment where the values of social work are ingrained in each and every mind. The process of learning is interactive and participatory, best facilitated by different components like regular assignments tests and audio-visual presentations. The individual conference and group conferences form the core of the course curriculum promotes clarity of vision, independence of attitude and enhances analytical and communication skills, besides enabling the students to link the theory with practice.

Apart from the classroom training on theory, students are provided a chance to engage in number of activities within the classroom set-up like engaging in group discussion which ensures that they learn the art of arguing and also respect individual views and have strong arguments to defend and place their views.

FIELD WORK

Field work training holds a pivotal place in development of social work students. The department is widely known for its rigorous field work programme. The department course design enables a student to get about 1440 hours of rigorous training for msw. Post graduate students work with ngo's, government, social welfare agencies and business organization for more than sixty days in a year. Through field work training students are provided opportunities to integrate their theoretical knowledge with practice and acquire handful of experience to deal with a variety of complex problems.

DISSERTATION

The second year students (fourth semester) students as part of the course requirement are exposed to submit their dissertation in the last semester, under the course code MSW 658 which is of four credits. Under the dissertation course structure, the students are expected to select a theme for field research with their respective assigned supervisors. The theme is based on the current trends concerning society from any of the topics taught in all four semester.

AROUND DEPARTMENT

EXPOSURE VISITS

Before commencing the current fieldwork, the newly joined students were taken for several exposure visits during the first semester. These visits were intended to get a glimpse of the world of social work and the expectations set for them. This is also designed for students who do not specifically have a social science background, thus provides them the opportunity to understand the field practice without any pressure to perform the very month itself. The organizations visited, work in varied fields- education, health, ecology and environment, rural developments, disabled and so on.

WEEKLY DEPARTMENTAL SEMINARS

Seminars and conferences are an integral part of academic life. They provide a platform to both students and academicians to manage many skills at a time like presentation skills, use of technological skills (use of computers and projectors), time management skills, writing skills, questioning and answering skills, handle pressure skills, handle pressure during presentations and make to learn themselves as professionals.

WORKSHOP, TRAINING AND SKILL LABS

The development conducts "Programme Media workshop" for students of social work each year. The relevance of programme Media workshop is that it builds the skills about conducting street play, community mobilization, and awareness generation by theatre, use of folk media and developing a close bonding among the students. Each activity in program media is designed in a way that helps a student in their coming days of training and future professional responsibility. Furthermore it intends to broaden the scope to learn more activities on their own to enhance their capabilities and knowledge.

The department conducts various skill labs to enhance the skill of the students which are essential for the growth of a student in a holistic way like SPSS (statistical package for social sciences), project formulation, PLA, etc. for the students as per the requirement of the course in social work.

MEDIUMS OF LEARNING

The mediums of learning have been designed for an extensive professional growth with an aim to maximize overall development of the students. The department is continuously updating the curriculum to make it more intensive and relevant.

The various mediums of learning are outlined as follows:

Orientation Programme

An orientation programme is designed and conducted for every batch with the purpose to get acquaintance with the nature and content of the course.

Assignments and presentations-

As part of an internal assessment, every student has to prepare an assignment for each paper differently. Every assignment presents a comprehensive study of the particular topic where the special focus is on the concerned student's perspective and his/her personal opinion about the topic relating to the field experiences as much as possible.

Field work

Every student is supposed to complete efficiently the component of field work designated twice a week. Students are associated with various organisations and open communities for the same. A detailed evaluative documentation of the process is prescribed for completion of the course.

Individual Group Conference

Individual conference is a guided interaction between the students and the assigned faculty supervisor to analyse issue and problems arising out of the fieldwork experience.

Group conference is a mechanism to facilitate professional sharing of field work experiences with fellow students and faculty supervisors. It provides the students an exposure to different field setting and an opportunity to discuss variety of issues and problems along with their implications in practice.

Block Placement

Block placement is designed for the learner to integrate theory and practice to enhance competencies of social work and experience self in that role. The duration of the placement is for four week which gives an opportunity to develop themselves.

Exposure visit

Exposure visits are designed to provide an exposure of different professional settings in the field of social work and also generate an understanding about the organizational structure and functioning of institutions/ organisations.

ACTIVITIES BY THE STUDENTS

The campaign Clean G.B.U, Green G.B.U

The students of the current batch under the leadership of their seniors organised a campaign by the name of "clean G.B.U, green G.B.U" on 5th November, 2012. The campaign's objective was to spread awareness among the students of the university about the importance of keeping the environment of the university clean. The campaign focused on encouraging the students and everyone alike to endorse and be sensitised about petty but important things to keep our environment safe and sustainable like – switching off all electrical points when not in use, using of dust bin to dump the garbage, to conserve water by closing the water taps after use, to abuse less items which demands electrical consumption, to not litter the surrounding, to also set an example for others and doing what is right, to mobilize the student participation and preservation and conservation of GBU environment as the famous saying goes that "charity should always begin from home".

Collaboration with "SADRAG" Organization to spread awareness on Child Sexual Abuse.

The students Collaborated with "SADRAG" to voice concern and express collective solidarity with other stakeholders, allied systems and people in general on the issue of child sexual abuse. A candle light march was organised on 21st May 2013 outside the office of Greater Noida Authority in order to sensitise people about the issue of child sexual abuse and its horrific effects. The participants included MSW students, faculty members and members from SADRAG and other NGOs. A multi stakeholder meeting was also organised on 22nd May 2013 on the Theme: Child Sexual Abuse-Prevention, Reporting and Effective Intervention. The meeting was attended by local NGO representatives, students, government officials, faculty members and volunteers.

Conducted street plays, health camp and rallies in the villages of Greater Noida during field work placement.

The students also conducted various street plays in the neighbouring community on various themes including the importance of girl education, poverty and issues related to health. The students also organized a rally in the community. The main objective of the rally was to make people aware about the importance of keeping the environment clean. Community participation was ensured and many members including the Pradhan who collaborated with the students in organizing the events.

The students of the present batch organized health camps in the community. Free medicines were distributed and check-ups were conducted by specialized doctors. The students used their networking skills and collaborated with several hospitals like Green city, Yatharth and Amrapali.

Volunteered for the Event organized by Global Compact Network

Global Compact network organized a two day conference on the "importance of multi stakeholder collaboration in the context of water and sanitary health". Six students from the department attended the conference and volunteered to manage the event. The students ensured smooth functioning of the event and recorded the lectures which helped the organization to write a report on the said topic. The students of MSW programme participated in the Sustainability Dialogue organized by Global Compact Network in collaboration with BMW on 15th November 2013.

Cultural and Sports activities

Students have participated extensively in various cultural and sports events organized within the university and outside the campus as well. They have participated in street plays, photography and other events organized at inter-university levels.

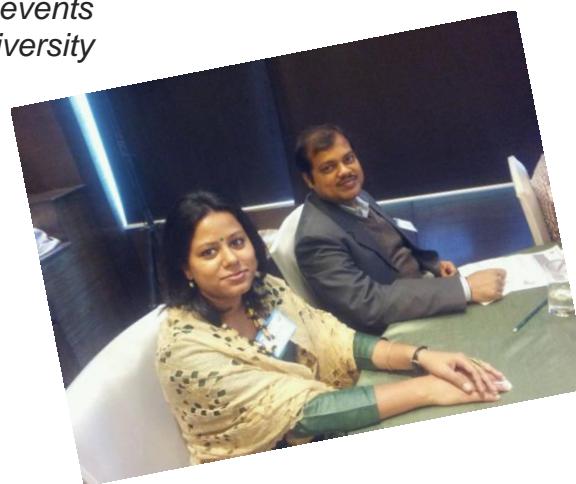

Organized Fresher's and Farewell Parties

The students of the current batch have organized cultural events at the school and departmental level. Fresher's and farewell parties have been important events thoroughly conceptualized and implemented by the students and other events like new year party, Diwali Mela and many other such events are under the banner of the students creative identities.

Networking with NGOs

Students of MSW programme along with the students of management studies collaborated with various organizations like TARA Projects, LEONARD Cheshire Homes for putting up stalls in the campus on the occasion of Diwali Mela. The event was focused on the promotion of the products and the programmes of empowerment of these organizations as well as a strategy of fund raising for the same.
